Your Favorite Bad Hand?

I think a lot of players have hands that are complete trash, but they can't help but play them. When I first started playing I loved K9 and Q8. Q8 seemed like it would always hit 2 pair for me on the flop. Of course I soon learned how horrible the hand was and I stopped playing it

When i start to play poker, i call for almost every hand.Soon i learned that this method is a suicide.I saw in some freerolls players who play only a few hands until the final table.

I like 10/5 for some reason. I see it often, and I usually get pretty lucky pairing my ten's or getting a two pair. It's like my "doyle brunson" haha

My favorite bad hand is 2c/3d. Those are my two least favorite cards and suits, so I just put them both together. Makes sense doesn't it? :P

Just out of interest, did you know that every straight must have either a 10 or a 5 in it?

If you think about it, 10 5 is actually not a bad hand if you can get in cheaply. EVERY straight has either a 5 or a 10 in it :)

Me, I can't get away from trying to limp in when my hole cards or 6 9 for some reason :dry:

I don't personally have a favorite "bad" hand. I much prefer "good" hands so I never really thought about it before.

I like to try to get in cheap with a 10,7. Had some really good luck with that starting hand for some reason. Definitely not good hand by far and won't go in to far to get to play them.
