
Casinos and Drunk Players

Has anyone found that half the time you are playing with someone that is tipsy? I don't find this all the time but do find it at times. I never really understand why you would get drunk and play poker. I mean that is just asking for trouble.

Don't get me wrong I have a drink while playing also but I just don't understand when you get so drunk that you cannot play. I mean why not just hand the money over to them then.

I agree with tater. If I drink too much I can't focus anymore and my game sucks. Therefore I try to stay sober and try to avoid playing on tables where people are obviously drunk.

The beer is there just to make players lose and make dumb moves. It's brilliant tho.
