Does anyone here have anything they do for goodluck during/before a game?

I have a friend who has lucky poker boxershorts!

I have a keychain that has a picture of my boys that I always keep with me. I feel lost without it.

I like to wear my lucky braclet that my grand daughter Ana made for me.

Do you guys think that they bring you luck? I am not sure if they actually do but I do know without my keychain I just feel like I don't stand a chance at winning.

I know when i'm wearing my lucky braclet I feel lucky and that puts me in a positive state of mind.

Well a positive state of mine is one of the best things to have. I never thought about it that way.

I am not a very superstitious person so I can't say as I have a good luck charm. But, as far as putting yourself in a positive state of mind if it works keep doing it.

Yep, a positive state of mind seems to help me. So like you said whatever it takes to get there is great and a plus in my book.
