So where do you guys play poker tournaments? I see them online a lot but have never joined any but I never see any around my area where you can go play in one.

I was kind of skeptical about playing online and then I got involved with a site through sportsbook.com but they shut it down for some reason. A bunch of my fraternity brothers were playing a site they liked that has over 80 tournaments a day~ I absolutely love it. You can jump in and play a few hands with as little as a dollar or buy in to larger tournaments. Go to this site it has some great tips on playing online holdem and click on the banner and you can be playing tonight if you want. I have cashed out a few times and they are quick with sending the check to.

I have not heard of this site. I will check it out but with the new law here in the states I am not to sure how you go about depositing money so you can play? Thanks for sharing.

Yeah I have used this site for a few months, it is pretty advanced I really like it. I had no problems at all I deposited with my debit card and cashed out and they sent it right to me with no problems. I had two other online things say that they could not help me since I lived in Missouri. Somehow these guys found a loop hole. goto www.texasholdemallin.com and you can read some more information about them and click on the banner and have fun.

GOod Luck
